DOOLITTLE WILL STICK TO THE BOA'D

Declares That He to Still a Citizen of Lincoln and That His Absence Was Temporary-Other (apital City News.

LINCOLN, Nob., Oct. St. - | Special to Ton Ben | The escapades of Waster Smith, the youthful horse thief, have been chronicled from thus to time in these columns, but the time has come when Watter will drop from public oction. This morning his fether hied complaint with the county judge setting forth that the boy is beyond parental contral incorrigible and growing up in mendicancy. The boy is D years old and has a crim anal record that would make any inmate of the state penitontiary blush for eavy. He has distinguished himself chiefly as a horse thief, and has succeeded in getting away with a number of valuable animals. On ese occasion he broke into a man's house, stole the key to the harn and secored a horse and horse. Then going to another para be forced an entrance through a window and store a ket of single harness. Hitching the borse to the buggy he started off with it, he was accessed by the owner of the He about the herse that the owner was horse before and it was only by the merest accident that the boy was detected. When brought before Acting County Judge Long this ferences he unbisshingly samitted his derelictions and was sentenced to the reform school at Kearney. Will Stuck to the Board.

John Doclittle, the member of the ex-cise board who is causing a number of Libroit pecple to lose lots of sleep in an endeaver to had out whether he lives in Lin-coln or in Chicago, returned to Lincoln last evening. He maintains that he is still a citizen of Lincoln and says that he will appear before the city council tomorrow evening and defore the rity council tomorrow evening and insist upon his rights as a member of the excise board. He does not believe that his temporary absence will interfere with the actions of the board. Fir also states that he will be away the greater part of the time until the first of the coming year, but insists all the time that his present absence is only temporary. temporary.

Still Inquiring Into Scott.

The Judge Scott investigating committee held a brief session in Judge Gregory's ofnce vesterday afternoon. William S. Curtis was the first witness examined. He testified that on one occasion he argued a demurrer before Judge Scott which had aiready been ruled upon by two other judges. He told the judge that in view of the previous rainings it ought not to be necessary to decide it again. Judge Scott declared that that was what he was there for and overruled the motion. The witness con-sidered it a very strange proceeding. C. J. Greene testified that while conducting a case before Judge Scott in Sarpy county last April the court peremptorily or-dered him to sit down. The witness maintained that he was only protecting the inter-ests of his client, at which the court flew into a passion. MARTIN LUTHER'S CHURCH

It is Rededicated at Wittenberg, Germany, with Great Pemp.

GAY APPEARANCE OF THE OLD TOWN

Becked Out in Hollifay Attire in Honor of the Event-Emperor William Takes a Leading Part to the Ceremontes.

Wittenanno, Oct. 31,-The old church allt in 1489 to 1400, on the doors of which Martin Luther in 1520 nailed his theses against papal indulgences, after having been several times damaged by war and restored, has just been again restored, this time by Emperor William, and today in the presence of many royal personages, other dignitaries and a great crowd of ple it was rededicated, the keys being nepeople it was rededicated, the keys being re-invered to the emperor after imposing cere-monies. The whole quality old town is in holiday attire, gay with flags and garlands, and thronged with people from all parts of Germany and other countries.

From Luther's bouse the emperor and his parts reviewed.

party reviewed a gorgeous historical procession composed of nineteen groups, illustratsion composed of nineteen groups, illustrat-ing the foundation and development of Wit-tenberg and the foundation of the Schloss kirche. The members of the imperial party expressed themselves as highly pleased with the pareant. Upon its conclusion the emperor and party proceeded to the refectory, where a banquet was awaiting them. The duke of Yora, who represented Queen Victoria in the celebration, was sented opposite the emperor. At the conclusion of the banquet, his majesty arose and delivered a speech. He

"Tae thought of restoring the Schloss kirche, the scene of the first act of the Reformation, struck a chord in the hearts of my forefathers. After my grandfather had pre-pared the means, my lamented father took up he scheme with all the warmth of his de feeling. It was not God's will that my father should behold the finishing work, but a grateful posterity will never forget that his name is inseparably connected with this memorial of the Reformation. To us the memorial of the Reformation. To us the church is not only a memorial, but a serious admonition and an expression of divine blessing through the Protestant church. The confession of our faith that we made today in the presence of God, binds us and the whole of christennem. Therein lies the bond of peace, reaching beyond all lines of division. In the matter of faith there is no compulsion, free conviction of the heart and decisive acknowledgement thereof is a blessed fruit of the Reformation. We Protestants make feud with nobody on account testants make feud with nobody on account of our belief, but we hold fast our gospel until death."

He then proceeded to thank the German princes and Protestant sovereigns of Europe for taking part in the festival. He concluded by raising the cup that Wittenberg had pre-sented to Luther on the occasion of his wed-

"This cup," he said, "once touched Luther's lips. It shall serve me to drink to the welfare of my illustrious guests; long life to the Protestant princes of Germany and the governments of the German free towns." After the banquet the emperor and em-press, her majesty wearing a red velvet cloak, proceeded to an improvised theater in the cavalry barracks, where they witnessed a performance of a Luther festspiel, illus-trating the principal events in the reformer's life. Afterwards they drove to the railway station. The route was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights and thousands of people lined the road. Their majesties were given a most tumultuous ovation. The whole celebration, from beginning to end, was very out without a hitch.

Overcoat

Arguments

Arguments that speak louder than words, are prices-Prices to talk must be loud voiced--

How is $3.75-

For a loud talker for a good wide wale cassimere overcoat---

Or would you rather have a heavy long ulster for $5-

Or a still better one for $7---

And for $8-

Ah, that's the stuff—

For $8 we have the finest light beaver overcoat you ever laid eyes on-got blueblack-brown ones, too-Wide wale-Box

$8—that's our leader.

You prefer a storm ulster—we have them -all prices—all fabrics—

These are our arguments-
